A New Name and Enhanced Digital Experience is Coming to Boynton Beach Allergist

Meet AllerVie Health and see what's ahead for your allergy and asthma care this fall!

As we join the AllerVie Health network, we want to share a few exciting changes that are on the horizon for your care this fall!

This November, Boynton Beach Allergist will become AllerVie Health, and we're introducing an enhanced digital patient experience to help you stay connected to your care – even when your next appointment is weeks or months away.

A New Name With a Continued Commitment to You

While our name is changing to AllerVie Health, we'll continue caring for our Boynton Beach community at our current location as we always have – now with the resources of a national network supporting our practice.

Our focus remains on helping you feel more comfortable, breathe easier, and keep doing the things you enjoy most.

Upgraded Technology. More Convenient Access to Your Care.

Whether you need to book an appointment, check a test result, or have a question for your care team, you'll have an easier way to keep up with your care when it works for your schedule.

The new portal and mobile app will give you more flexibility to:

- Stay informed: View your health information and test results.
- Stay in touch: Send non-urgent questions to your care team and manage prescription refills.
- Stay organized: Book and manage appointments online.

Alongside the portal, we're updating our electronic medical record system, which our team uses to organize your health information and document your care. This system is already in use at other AllerVie Health clinics, giving our team an established foundation as we prepare for the transition.

What to Expect Next

We'll share more details before these changes take place, including when the portal will launch and how to get started. We're here to help you get comfortable with the new experience, one step at a time.

Thank you for making us part of your allergy and asthma care journey. We look forward to moving into this new era of care with you!

Warmly,
Your Boynton Beach Allergist Team
Soon to be AllerVie Health
