

We're Excited to Welcome Back Dr. Sean Hess!

We have a familiar face returning to our Cape Coral and Fort Myers clinics! Sean Hess, DO, will be back with AllerVie Health beginning November 9. He's looking forward to reconnecting with you, meeting new faces, and caring for our community again.

Whether you've seen Dr. Hess before or are meeting him for the first time, you'll be in great hands! He's an experienced, board-certified allergist who cares for patients of all ages and speaks both English and Spanish. His interest in science began at a young age and has stayed with him throughout his career, leading him to publish research and present at national allergy and immunology conferences.

Outside the clinic, Dr. Hess enjoys traveling, cheering on the Philadelphia Eagles and Phillies, and staying active with golf, pickleball, and softball. He knows how much those everyday moments and favorite activities mean – and wants his patients to have the support they need to enjoy theirs, too.

As we welcome Dr. Hess back, we'll also be saying goodbye to Dr. Thomas Shen, whose last day with AllerVie Health is November 5. We're grateful for the care Dr. Shen has provided and wish him the very best.

We're here to help make this transition easy for you. If you have an appointment scheduled with Dr. Shen after November 5, we'll update it to be with Dr. Hess – there's nothing you need to do.

If you'd like to book an appointment, reschedule a visit, or talk with us about your care, please give us a call. You can also book or make changes to an appointment through our patient portal at portal.allerviehealth.com.

We're glad to have Dr. Hess back and look forward to seeing you soon!

Sincerely,
